A GRAVE MARKER. I visited the Port Mayaca cemetery this week and saw for the first time a marker at the head of Howard Sharp's grave. The veteran newsman passed on in 1945 and this past summer the Masonic Lodge in Pahokee placed the handsome marker on his grave. Mr. Sharp left his property—the old building on the canal bank formerly occupied by The Everglades News—to the Pahokee Lodge.

OPEN 24 HOURS DAILY. I found a drug store to my liking the other day. It is located in Stuart. Big signs all over the place said: "Open 24 hours a day—seven days a week." What business a store like that would do in the Everglades section of Palm Beach county. The store employs a whole flock of clerks and I was informed in no uncertain terms that "it pays or we sure wouldn't keep it open."

SAILFISH CAPTAIN. I wasn't modest making claims that four-ty-five Martin county just comes right out and says: "Stuart—Sailfish Capital of the World." Newsmen Ernest Lyons has been a big factor in making the thriving city an outstanding mecca for sports fishermen.

It had been several years since I had taken time to walk up and down the streets of Stuart for a first hand look-see. Amazed is no word for my reaction. I was completely flabbergasted when I saw the dozens and dozens of handsome new buildings, each housing a modern new business institution of some sort. Even the old buildings have had their fronts modernized. I've never seen such a change in a town. Some of our merchants could take lessons in window decorating from what I saw in Stuart this week. Handsome window decorations. Stores gaily decorated with Christmas colors. Merchandise handsomely displayed in Christmas wrappings. West Palm Beach offers competition for Stuart merchants, too, but they are doing something about it. They aren't sitting quietly by and griping about it. They're acting.

ABOUT 1952? WHO SAID THAT? A couple of fellows were talking in front of the post office in Pahokee the other day and the topic of conversation was the new Legion building in Pahokee. One remarked that it should be done in 1950. The gloom spreader said: "It's moving like a lot of other things in Pahokee. I'm guessing the finish date will be 1952." The 1952 prognosticator may not be a member of the Pahokee Post but he has a couple of well-earned battle scars.

ALL DAY SING

The First Baptist church of Canal Point plans an all day sing and dinner on the ground for Sunday, Nov. 27. The public is invited to bring an old fashioned basket lunch.

Let's Give Credit Where It Is Due!

Below is the Group of Men Responsible for the Letting of a Contract Recently to Retread the 12½ Mile Stretch of Road Between South Bay and the Hendry County Line

To the above group of officials goes the credit for letting of a contract to retread that bad stretch of road between South Bay and the Hendry County line. County Commissioner Paul Rardin, State Representatives B. Elliott and Elbert Stewart worked in close harmony with State Road Board Member Merrill P. Barber of Vero Beach to get the job done. Other members of the group were active in their support of the project. SRD Board, Chairman Alfred McKethan and SRD Member Glover Taylor joined Mr. Barber in placing the stamp of approval on the job as an emergency operation.

In commenting on the actual letting of the contract it was pointed out that Columnist Steve Trumbull of The Miami Herald had been instrumental also in bringing the plight of the road to the attention of road department members. John Pennekamp, associate editor of The Miami Herald, was also given his fair share of credit for publicizing the terrible condition of the road.

Canal Point Lions Join Pahokee Lions To Welcome Santa

Canal Point Lions will join with Pahokee Lions in bringing Old Santa Claus to Pahokee on Christmas eve afternoon. Plans call for the Old Chap to land in some familiar spot in Pahokee. Advance word is to the effect that he will be loaded down with candy and fruit for the youngsters who witness his appearance.

City Hall Grounds Beautification Starts

The Hibiscus Circle of the Pahokee-Canal Point Garden Club started work on its first project on Tuesday of this week when members started beautification of the Pahokee city hall grounds. First work was done by members when they set out several dozen aurelia cuttings as a starter in the beautification work.

Mrs. Sue Mead is chairman of the beautification committee of the Hibiscus Circle and said that more work would be done on the city hall grounds in the not too distant future.

Mrs. Frank W. Weathers and daughter, Barbara, of Miami are spending the Thanksgiving holidays in Pahokee with her father, W. F. Walker.

Rudolph Geiger Is Winner 1st Place In FFA Contest

Rudolph Geiger was awarded first place in the "green hand" carving contest sponsored by the Pahokee Chapter, Future Farmers of America, at a chapter meeting in the high school agriculture building Monday night. As a prize he received a handsome FFA dress belt.

Those competing in the contest to carve the best replica of the green hand, emblem of the first degree in FFA, included eighth grade members of the Pahokee Chapter. Roy Spooner and Billy Turberville received honorable mention. The judging committee included Charles Holmes, chairman, Dickie Atkins, Junior Holmes, Bennie Sims and Chandler McIlwain.

President Ralph Chaney announced chapter plans to sponsor a Christmas dance for the entire student body of Pahokee High School prior to the dance a contest will be conducted to select a "chapter sweetheart" for the 1949-50 school year, succeeding Miss Johanna McKinstry, last year's chapter sweetheart. The new sweetheart will be elected by popular vote at a penny a vote in the same manner last year's sweetheart election was conducted and

1,000 Acres Of Beans East Of Okeelanta Killed By First Frost

More than 1,000 acres of beans were ruined by the frost over the week end in the area of Okeelanta, according to H. L. Speer, assistant county agent. Mr. Speer made his trip of investigation into the section Monday afternoon and saw first hand the damage done by the frost.

Two Fractured Arms For 2 Young Ladies

A painful coincidence occurred in Pahokee Saturday when two girls of about the same age suffered fractured right arms at about the same time of day. The two girls were Jeanine Mock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Mock, and Carol Ann Mullis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mullis. It is reported that Jeanine broke her arm when she fell from a horse and Carol Ann's accident happened while she was at play.

proved so successful through the generous support of the public. Proceeds from the election will go toward covering the expense of the dance which will be free to the students. The new chapter sweetheart will be crowned "queen of the ball" at the dance.

Phil O'Connell Is Guest Speaker For Lions Ladies Nite

State Attorney Phil O'Connell of West Palm Beach was guest speaker at the annual ladies night dinner and program of the Canal Point Lions Club held at the Canal Point School Monday night with President A. R. Harrington presiding. The subject of Mr. O'Connell's talk was "The Individual's Responsibility to His Family and His Community." He was introduced by County Commissioner Paul Rardin.

Lions District Governor and Mrs. Ross Witters of Miami were introduced by Boyd Vorhees, program chairman. Mr. Witters spoke briefly on "Lionism." Miss Fatsy Maxson played a piano solo, "Warsaw Concerto." Alton Jones gave the invocation.

Delmar L. Hooks, Lion tamer, introduced the guests, including the wives of members; also R. S. Burr, president of the Belle Glade Lions Club, and Mrs. Burr; Emmett P. Holt, president of the Pahokee Lions Club, and Mrs. Holt; Frank M. Shaughnessy, president of the Pahokee Rotary Club, and Mrs. Shaughnessy; Mrs. C. G. Coburn, Community Garden Club, and Mr. Coburn.

The Thanksgiving motif was used in table decorations. The delicious turkey dinner was prepared and served by members of the Canal Point Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Belle Glade Rams Trim Pahokee 12-0

The Pahokee Blue Devils gathered their season's defensive strength into a bruising spearhead of fighting fury and punctured the confidence of the Belle Glade Golden Rams on Memorial Field in Belle Glade Wednesday night before bowing to the superior strength of the Rams in the final quarter, 12 to 0.

Although Coach Clyde Alley's men were unable to marshal any impressive offensive power, their hard charging, quickly shifting defensive tactics so completely befuddled the jittery Rams that they got nowhere at all until the fourth stanza when Fullback Alvin Leathers culminated a 65-yard drive with a cross buck from the 10-yard line for a TD. In the last minute of the game Quarterback Tom Williams garnered another six points for Belle Glade by sneaking across from the one.

Bill Kirk, Pahokee's defensive center, did some good work in buttressing the middle of the Blue Devil line against the Ram charges. However, every member of the team must be given credit for playing a whale of a defensive game that made the annual Glades contest the football classic local fans always look forward to.

Seniors playing their last games for Pahokee included Stanley Hooks, Ralph Chaney, Billy Roberts, Brenard Justice, Gene Miller, Billy Ray, Mosley, Russell Sims and Oils Weaver.

TO LATE TO CLASSIFY

BY RUSSELL KAY
SECRETARY OF THE FLORIDA PRESS ASSOCIATION

Uncle Samuel Santa Claus galloped gleefully into Pinellas County last week, reached into his Deficit Spending Pack and with a "Ho ho ho" and a "Ha ha ha" attempted to lay a five million dollar gift in the laps of the people of St. Petersburg in the form of a super-duper federal housing project.

This beautiful bauble, tinsel wrapped and bearing colorful labels of the "Welfare State" was similar to thousands of like gifts that the genial gentleman has been passing out with a lavish hand without regard to cost and with no consideration as to where the money was coming from.

But Miss St. Petersburg it seems is grown up, she no longer believes in Santa Claus. Instead of grabbing for the package while uttering ohs and ahs of appreciation, she refused to accept the so-called gift and proceeded to kick Mr. Claus squarely in the teeth.

Concerned over the steadily mounting national debt and thoroughly alarmed over the administration's proposed program of continued deficit spending, the people of the Sunshine City decided it was time to call a halt and they did so by refusing to be a party to such a program even if it meant rejecting a five million dollar project.

While the rest of the country has been talking about the national debt and deficit spending, St. Petersburg gives us a magnificent example of what we can do about it. If a lot of other cities, counties and political subdivisions would follow St. Petersburg's example and make it clear to the federal government that they view with alarm the present day spending trend, and in order to bring about a balanced budget will wait for improvements until the money is available to pay for them, it would do more to bring our political leaders to their senses than anything else.

We need look for no economy in government—federal, state or local—as long as chambers of commerce, civic clubs, labor organizations and other groups keep screaming for more and more money.

It is silly to blame our representatives in congress and the legislature for increased appropriations and deficit spending when we are continually calling on them for gigantic sums for improvements and subsidies.

The bureaucratic monster that today threatens to engulf the nation and enslave the populace with regimentation and controls will continue to grow and prosper as long as the people submit to it and by their pleas for more and more government aid meekly relinquish their individual freedom of thought and action.

The tax burden must necessarily increase as spending increases. Deficit spending is only postponing the day that somebody will have to pay. We can continue in the direction we are going and wind up to find that the wonderful "Welfare State" we dreamed of is in reality a "Police State" with free enterprise and freedom of the individual a thing of the past.

Political leaders in order to perpetuate themselves in office must please the people, and if they find that deficit spending is the most direct approach to more votes that is the way they will go.

The spenders attempt to hoodwink us by insisting that the more we spend the better off we are. What difference does a billion or so here and a billion or so there make anyhow? It is our money they are spending but as you and I are not able to think in terms of billions or even millions, we assume it must be somebody else's money.

We know what happens when an individual continues to spend more than he earns, but for some unknown reason we can't seem to grasp that the same thing must eventually happen to the nation that continues such a practice.

As individuals we want a lot of things we haven't got—a new car, a house, a yacht, a sable coat. We can work and save and eventually acquire one or more of these things. But suppose we totally disregard our income and buy all of them at one time, signing notes to be paid at some future date. We may have a helluva lot of fun riding in the car or sailing the yacht or flaunting the fur coat before our neighbors, but the day of reckoning will come and when the sheriff's sale is over we wish we'd used a little more common sense and hadn't insisted in going in over our depth.

If more cities and political subdivisions make it known that they are more interested in a balanced budget than they are in additional federal funds and you can depend on it, congress will fall in line with gusto for after all, congress dare not go against the will of a majority of the people.

Power Company Will Distribute Common Stock To 30,000 Folks

Florida Power & Light Co.'s common stock will be distributed to some 30,000 people located in all of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, U. S. Possessions, Canada and many foreign countries, as the result of an order of the Securities & Exchange Commission which was upheld by the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of New York last Monday.

The 2,450,000 shares of Florida Power & Light Co. common stock has been owned entirely by American Power & Light Co. since originally issued and the distribution will be made to owners of the preferred and common stocks of that company. While the date for distribution has not been set, it is anticipated that it may take place early in 1950.

In a letter addressed to American Power & Light Stockholders residing outside Florida, McGregor Smith, F&L president points out that Florida is a sound state with a wonderful future.

"You will find here," Smith's letter continues, "no punitive laws against business, no state income tax, no state property tax, no duplicate inheritance tax." It invites them to see Florida and it concludes, "You, too, like many thousands of others, may then decide to enjoy a longer and fuller life by making Florida your home."

In a similar letter addressed to these stockholders who reside in Florida, many of whom are customers of the company, Smith invites their observations "of the good things we do so that we may do more of them, and of the not-so-good things we do so that we may do less of them."

Distribution of the Florida company's stock will divorce it entirely from American Power & Light Co. which is a registered holding company in the Electric Bond and Share Co. system.

Florida Power & Light Co.'s board of nine directors will then be responsible to the new stockholders for the company's operation, management, and future development. These directors are:

F. G. (Pat) Bailey, veteran Miami civic leader, merchant and president of Bailey-McLean Hdw. Co.; Benton W. Powell of Sarasota, president of the Palmer National Bank & Trust Co. and vice president and Florida manager of the Palmer Florida interests; Wm. A. Shands, Gainesville businessman, grower, cattleman and vice president and general manager of the Packer Corporation; Alf R. Nielsen, West Palm Beach businessman and civic leader and president of Alfur Creamery Co.; Wm. R. Kenan, Jr. of Lockport, New York, long-time associate of Henry M. Flagler, who was active in the development of the Flagler interests in Florida and at present taking part in the administration of these interests and other businesses; Elmer Ericson, Tenafly, N. J., businessman, actively associated with several activities including president and director of S. W. Childs Management Corporation.

The remaining three directors are officers of Florida Power & Light Co. and include McGregor Smith, president; H. E. Simpson and Robert H. Fite, vice presidents, all of Greater Miami.

The Securities & Exchange Commission order which was upheld by the U. S. District Court was issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 with regard to simplification of holding company systems and the 2,450,000 shares of the Florida company's common stock will be distributed to owners of American's stock on the following basis: 1,242 shares to each shareholder of American's

No. 6 Preferred; 1,045 shares on the $5 Preferred; and 0.147 of a share on the present common stock of American.

Your telephone is a means of doing more business and doing it faster, better, more economically.

When you consider the many different ways it serves you, in comparison to the price you pay, telephone service stands out as a real Bargain in your Business.

And its value keeps increasing as service becomes faster and better and the number of customers and prospects you can call grows day by day.

Watch Out The Symptoms!

Laughed out loud when I heard Hoot Davis was down with Chicken Pox. A man of forty-five catching a kid's disease!

So I went to see him, armed with jokes about "second childhood" but forgot them fast when I got there. Hoot looked terrible and had quite a fever.

While we talked, I came to think of how Chicken Pox is a lot like other "diseases"—diseases of the character, such as intolerance, self-righteousness or just plain ignorance. They're excusable in children, but when they come out in adults they're ten times as bad—and can be mighty "contagious."

From where I sit, we should all watch out for the "symptoms"—little things like criticizing a person's preference for a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale. We've seen personal freedom wither away in other countries, when individual intolerance was allowed to get out of hand and become a nation-wide epidemic.

Allen Greer Dies In Tractor Mishap

LAKE WORTH — Allen Lloyd Greer, 55, S. 6th Ave., was accidentally killed in a tractor accident while he was mowing his mango grove near Lake Osborne and 6th Ave. S Monday morning according to Justice of Peace Tom P. Carry, investigating officer.

Mr. Greer started mowing his grove shortly after 9:30 a. m. Justice Carry said. Mrs. Greer went shopping and when she returned at 1 p. m. and found her husband had not come in for dinner or his usual midday nap, she investigated and found him sprawled out in the field and the tractor lodged against a tree some 20 feet away.

A local physician was called and examination revealed a fractured skull and a fractured leg, Justice Carry said.

Justice Carry said it appeared that Mr. Greer attempted to jump from the small tractor when it struck a hole and was in danger of overturning. One of the victim's shoes had lodged between the dual wheels indicating that possibly the victim's foot had been caught.

A son, John Greer, was killed ten years ago in an airplane accident at Belle Glade.

Mr. Greer came to Lake Worth five years ago from Belle Glade where he had resided for 25 years. He was a retired road contractor originally from Joplin, Mo.

Emergency Operation In The Nick Of Time

An emergency operation Tuesday probably saved the life of a Pahokee high school teacher.

Dr. Ralph Pipes performed a tracheotomy—slitting of the wind pipe—on Leland Keene, teacher and Junior high coach in Pahokee schools, a couple of minutes after doctors reported the man had stopped breathing.

Dr. Pipes is chief of staff of the Belle Glade Memorial hospital. He was in Pahokee hospital for a tonsilectomy and rushed immediately to the operating table.

He inserted a metal breathing tube during the operation and afterwards reported Keene "was doing nicely."

Dr. Pipes said Keene had been suffering from an abscessed tooth and infection had closed the air passage.

Murray O. Weeks and George M. Belk, Jr., students at Junior College, West Palm Beach, are spending the Thanksgiving holidays in Pahokee with their parents.

Junior Red Cross Is Stronger This Year

WEST PALM BEACH—A large increase in Junior Red Cross membership for this year, based on fund contributions, was reported this week by Mrs. Harry Bennett, county JRC chairman.

The annual membership drive ended Nov. 15 and final tabulations on the drive are expected to be completed by the end of this week.

Mrs. Bennett said that of 40 Palm Beach County schools reporting, 100 percent membership had been obtained. Total contributions reported was set at $565. Memberships contributions are used to finance the Junior organizations service activities for the year.

The greatest gain in membership, on the basis of contributions, was reported from Northboro School here, where membership was doubled during the current campaign over the mark set a year ago.

Among larger schools reporting 100 percent memberships this week were, Lake Worth public schools; Belle Glade, Pahokee, Delray Beach elementary, Palm Beach, Jupiter and Riviera Beach.

Another outstanding mark this year, Mrs. Bennett said, was set at the Palm Beach private school where 23 students contributed a total of $25 to the service fund.

The membership drive was carried on in all 76 of the elementary and high schools in the county.

Ad Group Will Tell The World Of Parks And Citrus Industry

MIAMI BEACH — The Florida State Advertising Commission has decided to include state parks and the citrus industry in its national advertising. John D. Pennekamp, chairman of the Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials, told the commission he felt the state's many fine parks deserved a permanent place in the picture of the state shown to outsiders.

Pennekamp pointed out that the parks total some 50,000 acres valued at about $50,000,000 and urged they be utilized as a drawing card.

Dawson Newton, advertising manager of the Florida Citrus Commission, suggested coordinating advertising to sell not only sunshine for recreation but the citrus industry as well. The advertising commission agreed to mention the citrus industry in its advertising if the citrus people mentioned the state's other natural advantages.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"ANCIENT AND MODERN
NECROMANCY, ALIAS MES-MERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DE-NOUNCED," is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday,
November 27.
The Golden Text is: "The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to shew himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him" (II Chron. 16:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counsel to nought, that we returned all of us to the wall, every one unto his work" (Neh. 4:15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"Human hate has no legitimate mandate and no kingdom. Love is enthroned. That evil or matter has neither intelligence nor power, is the doctrine of absolute Christian Science, and this is the great truth which strips all disguise from error" (454:9).

News Notes From State Capital

TALLAHASSEE—Domestic game and bird hunting started November 22 in Florida, for everyone with a license. Director Coleman Newman of the state game and fresh water fish commission said 52 Floridians would not be allowed to buy licenses, because they have been caught this year hunting out of season. But the other nimrods began shooting quail, squirrel, turkey and deer on Tuesday and will continue for the first six days of the season. Thereafter, statewide, hunting is allowed four days a week, and is closed on Monday, Tuesday and Friday. The dove season opens state-wide December 17, closing January 15, with the same Monday-Tuesday-Friday closing as the other season. Duck and geese may be hunted every day between November 29 and January 1.

TALLAHASSEE—Beer distributors in Florida can't pile on a little extra when they deliver beer to a customer, as a favor for handling their product, according to Attorney General Richard W. Ervin. The "hide-house" evil, he noted, by which wholesalers of beer or spirits give dealers an advance, has been made the subject of statutory treatment, here and elsewhere. It doesn't make any difference, in his opinion, whether the extra beer or spirits is a gift, or whether it's called by some other name. The effect is to assist the vendor unlawfully, and therefore is prohibited by law. In another opinion, to Wendell C. Heaton of the Florida Industrial Commission; Attorney General Ervin ruled that the American Guild of Variety Artists, including night club and theatre entertainers, is not a labor union such as would require an employer of its members to furnish bond to guarantee payment of salaries or performances of members.

TALLAHASSEE—Employees of the state game and fresh water fish commission will go under the merit system and be removed from political hiring and firing, if the application of the commission for membership in the Florida Merit System is approved. The five-man commission has instructed Coleman Newman, the director, to take this step, to remove what Commissioner Cecil Webb of Tampa said is "political pressure."

TALLAHASSEE—Unless a boat can be classed as a transportation vehicle and not a fishing boat, its owner must pay the state sales tax on its rental. This is a ruling by Comptroller C. M. Gay. His office declared the federal government is the sole judge of whether or not a boat is subject to the transportation tax, and therefore exempt from the sales tax. Pilot charges are not taxable but a flat charge for a charter is taxable.

TALLAHASSEE—Membership in the Forest Farmers Association has been accepted by Governor Fuller Warren. In such an organization, he said, the activities of Florida toward a full utilization of its forest lands can be continued. Members of the Lutheran church in the Florida-Georgia district have given the governor a leather-bound first edition of a new Christian family magazine, entitled "This Day." Among other gifts laid on the governor's desk was a gold-plated orange, presented by Maurice C. Dreier of New York in connection with his forthcoming book, "How to be a Gourmet."

TALLAHASSEE—Director H. N. Kirkman announced that promotions in the Florida Highway Patrol which he heads depend upon "not who you know but what you know." He said they demand hard work, study and initiative, and that promotions are made after examinations of physical fitness, intelligence tests, written tests on patrol work, seniority and personnel evaluation grades.

TALLAHASSEE—The board of control has warned contractors working on the new men's dormitories at the University of Florida that they will be held liable in damages if they continue behind in their schedule for completion. Attorney General Richard W. Ervin at the request of the board sent the notice to C. and R. Construction Company; and also advised their surety companies, when it appeared that work which was to have been completed in March will not be finished until next May. These dormitories comprise four units, will cost $2,000,000.

TALLAHASSEE—Constables cannot legally act as deputy sheriffs, according to Attorney General Richard W. Ervin. They may, however, be issued warrants for the arrest and search and seizure in connection with suspected moonshine or similar illegal activities. In some cases also, said the opinion to the Justice of the Peace Constable Association, deputy constables acting within their authority may serve such warrants.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Richard M. Harris, Attorney at Law, desires to announce that he will move his law offices in Belle Glade from the Milton Block on Avenue A to offices formerly occupied by the late Attorney Archie R. Harris, in the theatre building, on South Main Street, on December 1st, where he will conduct a general law practice.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TB RESEARCH

In universities and laboratories throughout the country, America's scientists are conducting an unceasing war against tuberculosis. This year alone, more than 22 separate yet co-ordinated studies are being aided by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliates—made possible by your purchase of Christmas Seals.

Under investigation are such questions as the chemistry and virulence of the tuberculosis germ, factors influencing the course of early tuberculosis, the reason some strains of germs become resistant to streptomycin, and the effectiveness of a combination of drugs in tuberculosis treatment.

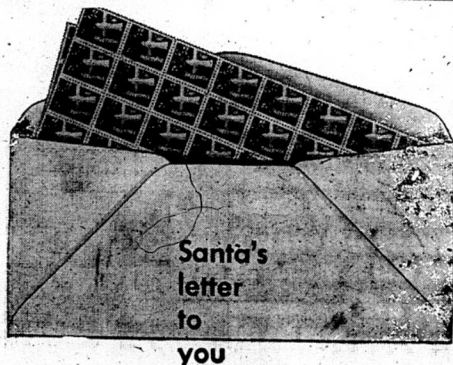

Since 1904, the overall TB program has helped cut the death rate by eighty-five per cent—yet TB still kills more people between 15 and 34 than any other disease.

So, please, buy and use Christmas Seals—send in your contribution, today.
